Kool Deadwood Nites: Tips on Classifying Your Car

Stock – which includes Stock Muscle, Stock Truck, and Stock Tri-Five and the 54' – 73' Stock class: must be as close to manufacture as possible including paint, interior, engine compartment so on and so forth. However, 3 small changes are allowed before deductions are added. Such as but not limited to chrome air cleaners, chrome valve covers, aluminum intakes, steering wheels, and things of that nature. We understand that rims can be ruined and hard to find so major changes like that may be accepted as long as they are era correct. So be aware of what style of rims were made in these years. It is your responsibility to know these details.

Modified – which includes Modified Muscle, Modified Truck and Modified Tri-Five: unlimited amount of changes can be done as long as the body is not altered or changed in any way.

Customs – (49' – 59' and 60' – 73'): a custom is when a body has been altered such as but not limited to shaved drip caps, door handles, French bumpers, and any body alterations of this nature from which the manufacture has produced your car.

Pro Street – a pro street car must have a larger than normal engine and tire configuration which would make the car above and beyond to be considered a normal street rod or muscle car.

Street Rods – (Pre 49') Street rod is usually ground up restoration with numerous alterations with the intent to make the car to be restored to modern conveniences.

Truck – Truck class may fit 4-wheel drives or 2-wheel drives. Some cars may look like trucks such as El Caminos, Rancheros and larger trucks that may have duals would all fit in this class.
